Boys' Soccer

The 1977 boys' soccer team had a great year and finished their season undefeated. However, the Senator P.I.L.

East Division champions were stopped short of the city title by Lincoln with a close score of 5-4.

Five players made the All-City team: Dave Martin, Jim Martin, Don Abelein, Steve Windsor and Jim Gravelle. Greg Morris, Dave Martin and Don Abelein were chosen for the All-State team.

Senior Dave Martin was chosen Most Outstanding Player; Jim Gravelle, Outstanding Offensive Player and Brad Arnston, Outstanding Defensive player. Most Inspirational was team captain, Greg Morris and Don Abelein received the "Mr. Hustle" award for the second year in a row.

Coach John Washburn guided the team with the help of his assistants, Bill Hayes and Kham One Keoprauseuth.

Girls' Soccer

In their second year as a P.I.L. team, Madison's girls' soccer did not rack up a significant number of victories as they finished a 10-game season with a 3-7 record. But there were a few victories accomplished that could not be recorded in a win-loss scorebox. They succeeded in establishing themselves as a tight, unified team and, win or lose, in keeping an element of fun in the game. Coach Kathy Renwick felt that the girls worked hard and showed improvement during the season.

Senior Kate Dunn was voted Outstanding Player. Cathy Seal was chosen Most Inspirational Player and Colleen Dugan received the Most Improved Player award. Cathy Seal and Sandi Dennis acted as team co-captains.

Varsity Football

This year Madison's Senators were plagued by injuries which were costly to the team and their success. Madison started its season with heavy competition — first Grant, then Marshall. After 4 losses, the Solons rallied to defeat Cleveland, 10-0. They finished the year 3-5.

The gridders gained

a new coach

Jim Webb who was previously an assistant coach and head of defense. Aiding Mr. Webb were Warren Bolin, asst. coach (defense) and Roger Clark, asst. coach (offense) and medic.

Darryl Brown and John Davenport acted as team captains. Named to the first team All-City were Darren Hergert and Scott Johnson.

Most Inspirational player was Darryl Brown; John Davenport, Best Blocker and Scott Johnson, Best Tackler.

Fall Varsity Rally

The 1977 varsity rally girls were enthusiastic supporters of Madison's varsity football team. They had fun making posters and locker decorations. They raised money by holding car washes and paper drives and by selling ribbons and pins. They spent a great deal of the money they earned on

"munchies"

for the team members.

One of the rally girls commented that it was the little things they did that made being a rally member worthwhile. The advisor of the rally squad was Ms. Sally Creasman.

J.V. Football

The hardworking J.V. football squad completed a 3-4-1 season. They downed Cleveland 20-8, defeated Benson 20-14 and Franklin forfeited to the Solons. Struggling valiantly against Jefferson's Democrats, they deadlocked in a 6-6 tie.

Selected Most Valuable Player was Mark Johnson. Leslie Dunham earned the title of Most Improved Player and Richard Mitchell was named Most Inspirational. Voted as the Most Outstanding Player was Alex Arias.

Freshman Football

"Madison's freshman football team got off to a fast start by winning their first three games of the season," stated Coach Donn Gassaway.

Gassaway also said that the team ran into a hornet's nest and were badly stung by the Franklin and Benson teams. However, they were not so badly stung that they couldn't recover to win their final game against Jefferson in a 14-0 sweep of victory in a rain storm.

Rich Law was voted as best lineman and tackler by the team. Ron Dahlman and Gene Stratton were voted best backs. The most improved player awards were given by coaches Terry Brown and Donn Gassaway to linemen Andre Ridgeway and quarterback Ken Lake.

Boys' Gymnastics

The small four member boys' gym team concluded a discouraging 1-5 season. However in their final meet, they gained a victory over Marshall 77.40 to 66.50.

This year freshman Tony Rother joined the squad who included sophomore Tony Ierulli, junior Jay Parker and senior, Jim Rickard.

Coaching the boys was Rick Swee.

Girls' Gymnastics

Many days of hard work and long practices resulted in a triumphant year for the gymnasts. The climax of the 1977 season resulted in a score of 84.6, the best in Madisons' history.

After starting the season, with former Madison gymnast Teri Acker acting as an assistant, the team acquired a coach, Peggy Landis. Ms. Landis guided the girls to compete in the city meet as the third team contending. Senior Jenni Linfoot and Freshman Kristann Sprague qualified for the finals. Kristann qualified for the state competition, thus receiving the outstanding gymnast award at Madison.

Varsity Volleyball

The girls' varsity volleyball team completed a difficult and discouraging season 0-8. However according to assistant coach Jim Flint, the real plus of the season was the growth in attitude and team concept. The girls understood that winning was not the only indicator of success but also self-improvement and teamwork.

Shelley Worthington was named the outstanding player and she and Dawn Garrett earned their 2nd year letters. Debbie Desch earned a 3rd year letter. Also earning a letter were Sandy Buttram, Patti Cage, Cheryl Dahlman, Cheryl O'Brien, Vienna Nelson and Marianne Purcell. Judy Delaney coached the team.

J.V./Freshman Volleyball

Skills improved during the season for the J.V. Volleyball squad coached by James Flint. It took a while for the participants to learn to work together and develop the right attitude. Finally their teamwork made a difference. They beat Grant in their last match making their final record 1-5. The J.V. team is pictured on page 37.

The freshman team completed a 2-1 season. Of the volleyball teams, they were the first to win a match.

Excellent serves and good spikes contributed to their success. There was no regular captain during the season as Coach Judy Delaney rotated captains periodically.

J.V. Rally

The energetic J.V. Rally really worked hard this year. During the summer they practiced three nights a week, attended a Rally Clinic and had car washes to earn money for the football season. They also cheered at the stadium

with the Varsity Rally for the Benson football game.

Aside from raising spirit at the games, they made 30 locker decorations for the J.V. football players. They also gave them treats at all home games and at practices the night before games. The same kind of spirit continued as they enthsiastically cheered the J.V. hoopsters. Mrs. Mary Faulkner advised the girls.

Varsity Boys' Cross Country

1977 was an excellent year for achievement on the part of the Varsity Boys' Cross Country team. With Mike Hoover 3rd in the district and Jim Lake 14th in the district, and then with Mike Booton winning 4 out of 6 dual meets and the City District Championship, no one could say it wasn't one of the best years yet.

Madison had a strong showing in all the meets and finished 2nd in city and 13th in state. Coach Franzke was obviously very pleased with the outcome of the meets, and he thought they did it through strong representation from each class: two seniors, two juniors, two sophomores, and one freshman. "It was a really pleasing experience for me," commented Franzke, "because people worked well. We had good progress and a good season. And with runners like we had this year," he added, "we can look forward to good future teams."

Girls' Cross Country

"This year's Girls' Cross Country team was one of the two best teams we've ever had," stated Coach Bill Franzke. They took third out of nine teams competing in the Astoria Invitational meet at Fort Stevens in Astoria. Bambi Foulkes came in second over all girls at the meet. In P.I.L. competition, they finished with 6 wins and 5 losses.

Of the six girls on the team, two were sophomores and four were freshmen. Debe King acted as captain and Bambi Foulkes was voted most outstanding runner.

This was the first year for all the girls on the team. Since all were beginners, they had to put in much practice time. According to Coach Franzke

they have great potential for the coming years.

J.V. Cross Country

The Madison High J.V. Cross Country team had an outstanding season with a record of 17 wins and 6 losses.

The Cross Country runners won the title of J.V.

city champions.

"The members of the team had a perfect score of 15 when they ran against Adams, Benson, Cleveland and Marshall.

These sophomores are the strongest runners that have ever been at Madison," remarked Coach Bill Franzke.

Mike Hoover was team captain and Kevin Kyle was named the outstanding sophomore runner.

Freshman Cross Country

The Freshman Cross Country team consisted of eight runners. Each member ran very well. David Tarver placed first in the first two meets. The lead runners were Joel Tebo, Sean Connelly and Andy Pella.

Their season record was 7 wins and 12 losses.

"This is a good learning experience for the boys, which will help them contribute a great deal to the Varsity and J.V. levels of Cross Country," stated Coach Bill Franzke. He also remarked, "The basic reason for freshman level is to gain experience

for the higher levels."

Pat Ehrlich was the team captain.

Fall Boys' League

Fall Boys' League kicked off the year with the traditional Luau held October 1. "The Luau was a real success," commented President Kevin Craddock.

Boys' League's biggest money maker proved to be selling new MHS mugs.

Other fund raising activities included "quad sponsoring" with Girls' League and the Senior and Sophomore Classes, the Winter Holiday Dance held December 10. Mike Stipic advised the group.

Fall Girls' League

Under the direction of president Pam Brown, Fall Girls' League started a busy year with their annual Senior-Frosh party held Sept. 27. During United Way Week, Girls' League had a snow cone sale

and all profits went to United Way.

January 16-20 was Girls' League Week which was entitled "50's Week." During this week, the film "American Graffitti" was shown. To finish off their schedule, they sponsored the semi-formal held Feb. 11.

Luau

The annual Luau, sponsored by Boys' League, was held Oct. 1 from 8 to 11:30 p.m. A band, Majesty, performed. The Luau took the place of a Homecoming dance and attracted over 250 people.

Boys' League sold

colorful leis

during both lunch periods to advertise the event. Many people wore their leis to the dance along with colorful long dresses or dress pants. Fruit and soda pop were sold and door prizes were given.

Homecoming

Due to the rushed planning,

a lack of enthusiasm and a hurried schedule, Homecoming Week, held Sept. 26 — Oct. 1, was not too successful. Madison's stage band started the week off by playing during both lunch periods on Monday. The Junior Class sold cotton candy on Tuesday. Wednesday there was a banana eating contest at lunch time. Thursday and Friday, the Sophomore Class had a licorice sale eighth period and after school.

In spite of the rain, mud and disappointment, many screams of joy and excitement were heard as Mary Jane Neideigh and Brad Peterson were crowned Homecoming King and Queen. The winners were announced after the game against Wilson which the Senators lost by a score of 15-18.

Fall

The Fall of 1977 started out much like any other year at Madison. Sports fans and athletes returned to the football field, the soccer field and the gymnasium. Some students returned to the Student Body Office to sign up for clubs and committees and become involved once more. Many others simply faded back into the shadows and became part of the huge, seldom heard from student body.

The first hint that this fall was not to be like every other came on a cold November morning. Students and faculty arriving early to school were the first to notice what all of us later confirmed — the tall tree outside the library and "unclassroom" entrance was no more. "Disappointed," "thoroughly shocked," and "absolute idiocy" were some of the comments and responses to the chopping down of the tree. The question in everyone's mind was not so much who had destroyed it, but why?

"what dumb jerk did that?"

A more pleasant event of autumn was the coming of snow. On Nov. 21 and 22, a record amount of snow for that time of year fell on the Portland area. School was canceled for a day so some students headed for the mountains for a day of skiing, some worked on their throwing arms for snowball fights and others just stayed home and slept in. Although it proved to be a nuisance to some, the November snow was a rare treat for most of us.

Fall Concert

At the Fall Concert November 2nd in Madison High School's auditorium was the best concert audience that Madison has had in five years. Even though the performing ensembles were a little shaky they performed well

for the time of year. Performers were Choraliers, Chansonettes, Freshman Chorus, Swing Choir and Concert Choir, directed by Choral Director Fred Hammack.

The Concert Band was the opening performer, directed by Instrumental Director William Covert. After Choraliers, the Stage Band played Maynard Ferguson's "Gospel John." Chansonettes director, Miss Alice Braden, was pleased with her choir's presentation. Freshman Chorus and Swing Choir also performed. Concert Choir ended the evening with "Wade in the Water."

'Mousetrap'

'Mouse Trap' played to full houses two nights, October 28th and 29th, in Madison's Auditorium. Included in the cast of eight were: Teri Nordby, Michael Gardner, Jeffrey Fritch, Traci Bates, Robert McEwan, Julie Swanson, James Harp and James Jeppeson.

The play was directed by first year drama teacher Bruce Emmons. Mr. Emmons has been acting on a semi-professional level in the local area. This long running murder mystery by Agatha Christie thrilled the audience

with an unusual twist in the plot at the end.

Winter

Varsity Basketball

Led by Coach Ole Johnson, the varsity hoopers had a good pre-season record of 3 wins and 1 loss. When the regular season started, the team entered a slump, winning only 3 of their first 8 games. The mental qualities and attitudes of the seniors encouraged the team to keep spirits up and practice with more intensity. The leadership of the seniors brought about a significant

turning point in the season. Coach Johnson felt that the senior players were responsible for the team unifying and winning 9 of their last 10 games.

A narrow 59-55 victory over 2nd place state finisher, Grant, proved to be a highlight of the season.

Greg Moss was selected Most Inspirational and best offensive player. Greg also made the P.I.L. all-city first team. Named best defensive player was junior Keith Horsley.

Bob Osborn assisted Coach Johnson with scouting.

Girls' Varsity Basketball

Although their record was not as good as in past years, the 1978 girls' varsity basketball team had just as much spirit. Victories over Grant, Cleveland, Franklin and Washington were highlights in a discouraging 5-17 season of P.I.L. competition. Some team members attributed the disappointing season

to a lack of teamwork.

Seniors on the team alternated being team captains from game to game. Beth Wahlstrom was voted most outstanding player and Terri Lutz was high scorer for the season.

Miss Fran Gannon acted as the team coach.

J.V. Basketball

Asked about the J.V. Basketball team, Coach Bob Osborne thought that the last half of the season was better played than the first. He noticed much improvement

by his players when they came back in overtime to beat Benson, a team that had defeated Madison before.

Coach Osborne awarded trophies to most valuable player Alan Novitsky and leading scorer Dan Newman. Madison finished their season with 12 losses and 8 wins.

Girls' J.V. Basketball

Girls' J.V. basketball ended the season with a win-loss record of 9-13. They concluded their season triumphantly with a strong 45-28 win over Cleveland.

Most improved player was Linda Fagan. Chosen most outstanding player was Dena Hill who also played on the girls' varsity team after Christmas. The team was coached by art teacher, Kathy Renwick. Ms. Renwick said that the team showed good promise for next year's varsity team.

Freshman Basketball

The 11 member freshmen boys' basketball team played 14 games during the season including two practice games. Madison had an average point score of 69 opposed to their opponents' score of 58. The frosh hoopers finished with a league score of 8 wins and 4 losses.

Ted Clark was voted most improved player of the year. Most valuable player was Ron Dahlman and the team captain was Willie Horsley.

Coach Jim Flint said that this year's team was the most intense group

Madison has had in several years.

Flint also commented, "The intensity they had made it very enjoyable to coach them."

Spring Varsity Rally

Despite poor attendance and lack of spirit at games, this year was very worthwhile for the varsity basketball rally. The highlight for the squad was accompanying the team to Grants Pass. The girls raised all the money for the trip themselves by having bake sales and paper drives.

A great amount of

behind the scenes work

that was not recognized went along with rally membership. Last summer they attended a rally clinic at the University of Portland. The clinic gave them ideas to use in making up cheers and an opportunity to meet a large number of people. Making posters, locker decorations and providing treats for the players was a big part of being on rally.

Mrs. Sally Creasman advised the group which consisted of seniors Becky Beavert, Teri Nordby, Ellen Rancher, Shelly Worthington, Jean Bigelow, and Lynette Plotner.

Varsity Wrestling

Greg Stone and David Moses were chosen team captains of the 1978 varsity wrestling team. In P.I.L. action, the Senators finished 2nd with a record of six wins and one loss.

Greg Stone was chosen outstanding wrestler. The team's high scorer was Paul Enterline. Darryl Brown was picked as most inspirational and Chris Kibler as most improved.

The grapplers had six wrestlers who placed in city. Greg Stone placed 2nd in his weight class. Paul Enterline, David Worrell, Chris Kibler and Eric Nilson all placed 3rd in their weight class. David Swanson placed fourth. The team was coached by Jim Webb.

J.V. Wrestling

The junior varsity wrestling team had an excellent season this year with a record of 6 and 1. They opened the season with a 72-0 victory over Grant.

Benson was their toughest match which ended in a 12-58 defeat for the Senators, their only loss of the season in P.I.L. competition. Jim Noblit was named outstanding J.V. wrestler. Head coach of J.V. wrestling was Dan Mason. The J.V. team is pictured on page 67.

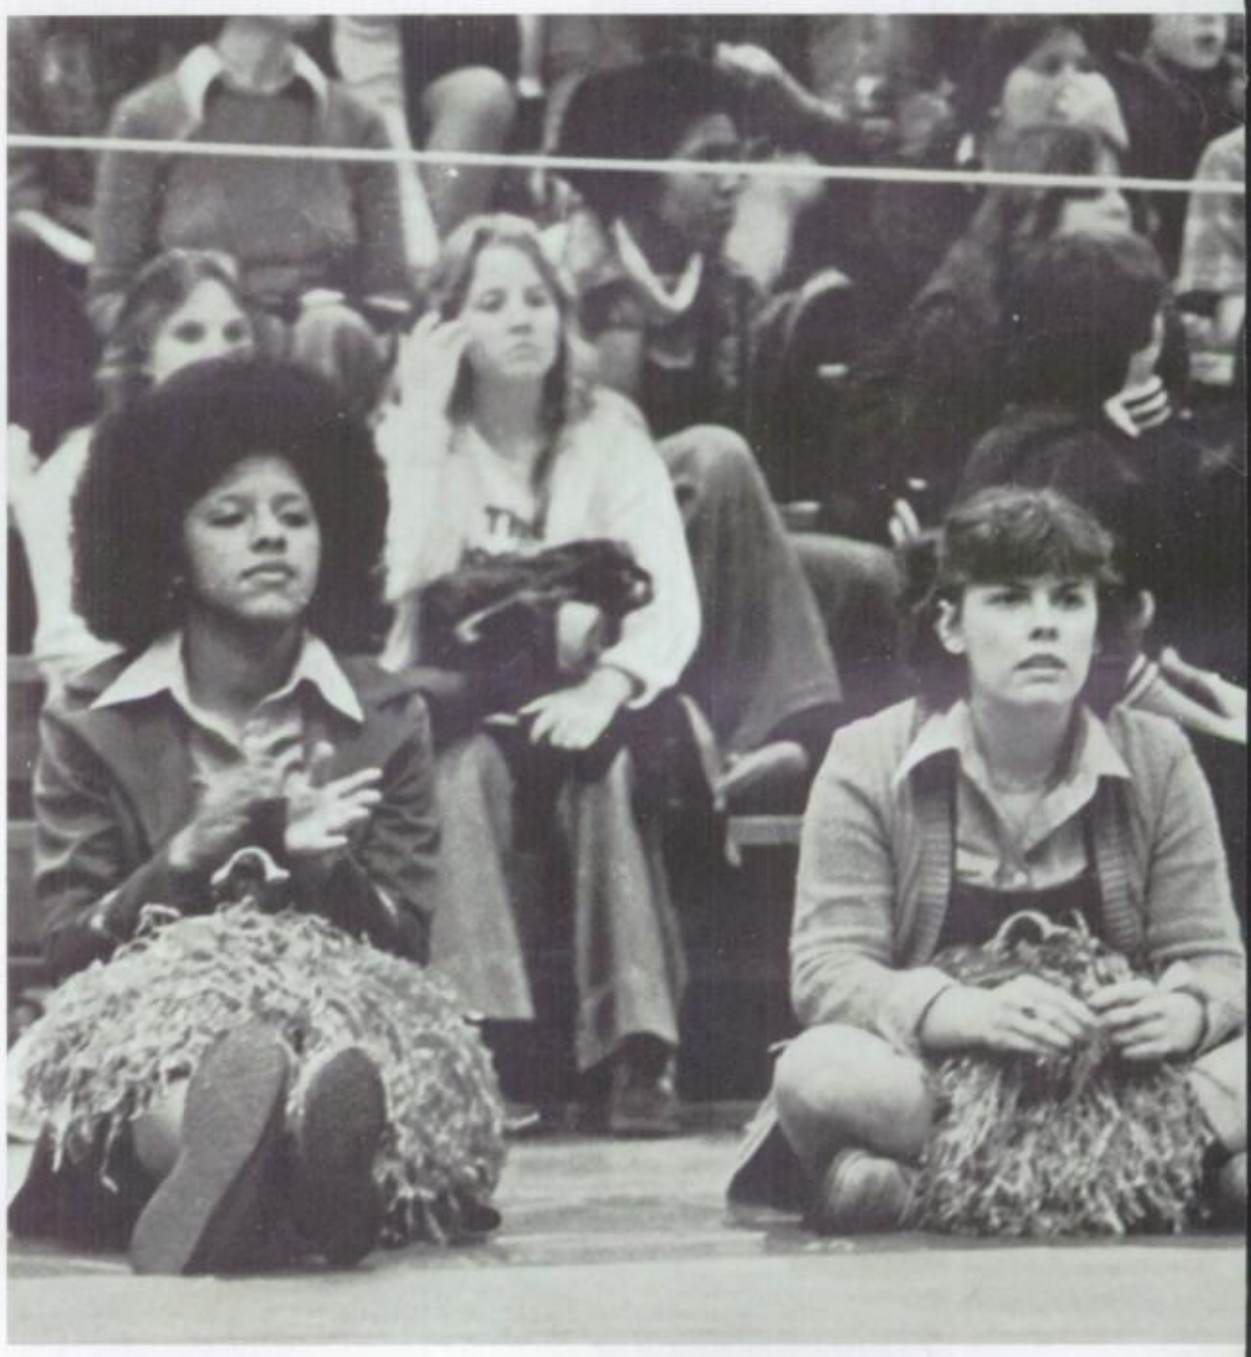
Wrestling Rally



In addition to supporting the varsity and J.V. wrestling teams, the wrestling rally also cheered the soccer squad in the fall. The girls provided team members with treats after hard practices and games. Decorations were placed on each boy's locker before competing in a game or match.

Because of limited funds, the rally had to spend some of their own money to support the teams. They paid their own way to follow senior wrestler, Greg Stone to state.

Mrs. Cathy Williams acted as advisor for wrestling rally. She commented that this was a very enjoyable group

to work with.

There will not be a wrestling rally next year due to budget cuts.

Special Events

One of the biggest special events at Madison this year was the State Drama Conference, held here on March 31 and April 1. Various workshops and several one-act plays were only two of the events presented for about

450 dramatics students attending the conference. "Opus II", a musical performance presented by all Area II Schools, took place at Madison on March 14. Honor bands and choirs made up of students from 25 grade schools and 5 high schools participated. A less pleasant event during March was the outbreak of a measles epidemic, calling for an immunization clinic at Madison.

Swimming

Starting with a win in the Invitational Relay Meet held at the Oregon Athletic Club, Madison's swim team finished the 1978 season with a fine record. The boys' team won four meets and lost only two, while the girls' team ended up with two wins and three losses.

In P.I.L. standings, the boys placed third in the East Division and the girls tied for fourth with Marshall. In state competition, Doug McCleary competed in the 100 yeard breastroke and 200 individual medley. Also sent to state was the boys' freestyle relay team made up of swimmers Jerry Lund, Mark Patterson, Sam Lee and Pat Dolph. Two school records were broken:

Sue Rother swam the 50 yard freesyle in 27.8 seconds and Shane Ford, Doug McCleary, Jerry Lund, and Mark Patterson swam the 200 yard medley relay in 1:54.072.

Linda Lawson was team captain. Doug McCleary and Traci Chapman were voted Outstanding Swimmers. The team was coached by Doug Haskell, who has expectations for a fine team for 1979, as only two members graduated: seniors Shane Ford and Linda Lawson.

Winter Semi-Formal

"This one's for you" was the theme of the 1978 winter semi-formal. It was held Feb. 11 in the cafeteria.

There was an excellent turnout — 325 people. Approximately $75.00 was made with the profits going to Girls' League, sponsors of the dance.

Disco-mania

provided the music. Students were able to request the songs they wanted to hear ahead of time The songs were then prerecorded on tape and announced by a disk jockey at the dance.

Pajama Game

On March 20, 21 and 22 Madison High School's students performed the musical Pajama Game. The cast consisted of 46 actors, dancers and choral students. Cast in the lead parts were Steve Thomas as Heinzie, Marc Tuggle as Sid and Teri Nordby as Babe. Accompaning the cast were 15 members of the school's orchestra. College students and faculty members were also on hand to lend their dramatic talents to the production.

The musical featured such tunes as "Hernando's Hideaway", "Picnic", "There Once Was A Man" and "I'll Never Be Jealous Again".

In addition to regular performances, Pajama Game was a state conference highlight of the International Thespian Society. The conference was held at Madison on March 31.

Pajama Game was directed by Michael Hibbard with vocal performances directed by Fred Hammack and the orchestra also conducted by Hammack. The production was choreographed by Frank Shrickenberger who spent many hours with the cast making sure they learned all the steps.

Winter

Because of a cut in school funds, Madison, along with the other Portland schools, got an extra long Winter vacation this year. After three weeks of rest and fun students returned to finish the first semester.

February brought the start of Rose Festival selection. Twenty-five girls attended a meeting with last year's princess, Stacey Hay, to introuduce them to Rose Festival.

The annual Red Cross Blood Drive was held March 3. Out of 118 students and staff who registered, 105 gave blood and 13 were deferred for various reasons. For the first time in several years, the quota of 100 pints was reached.

In the Senior-Faculty basketball game, Donn Gassaway led the faculty to win with a score of 71-65. The first basket for the faculty was made by Gerald Schloss. Better luck next year seniors!

Spring

Varsity Baseball

Despite soggy spring skys and early season losses, Coach Terry Brown's varsity hitters rolled up an 11 win, 3 loss record. The Solons finished second in East Division play and defeats of second place finisher in the West, Jefferson, and West Division champions, Roosevelt, earned them the chance to compete for state honors.

In quarter-finals action, Madison ended Hermiston's hopes 2-1 only to lose to Tigard 6-3 in semi-finals competition on May 31.

Outfielder Larry Trickel, first baseman Greg Moss and pitcher Bill Gassaway were named to the All City first team. Chosen most inspirational player was Greg Moss. With a .389 season record, Bill Gassaway captured the outstanding hitter award. Gassaway also made the All-Metro team.

Girls' Softball

The girls' softball team played 8 games and wound up the season with a 4-4 record.

The team started the official season with a smashing victory over Wilson 11-1. They then went on to beat Cleveland 7-1, but in their next game were barely defeated by Grant 1-3. Their big win of the season was in a game with Marshall whom they defeated 13-11.

Coach Herb Osaki was credited by the girls for making the season fun by displaying enthusiasm for the game, desiring to win and encouraging team spirit. He was assisted by Ms. Monica Muller and Ray Niehaus.

Team captains were Sandy Buttram and Kelley Heard. The girls voted Sandy Buttram Outstanding Player, Sandy Kaneshige Most Inspirational and Vienna Nelson Most Improved.

J.V. Baseball

The '78 Senator J.V. hitters scored a smashing victory ending their season undefeated with a 10-1 record.

The J.V.'s voted Paul Weathroy most valuable player. Other awards went to Joe Moss as outstanding hitter; Jerry Egger, most inspirational; Mike Strutton, outstanding defensive player and Mike Wagner, most improved player.

Other key players were Dave Bain, Rich Carleton, Chris Davis, Danny Newman, Scott Krugger, Rich Rosemus, and Mike Jackson.

Coach Jim Coon said that "the team had great togetherness

and their strengths were hitting and defense."

Freshman Baseball

The freshman baseball team ended the season with an excellent record of 7 wins and no losses. There were 30 ball players on the team and they averaged a turn-out of 25 people per game. The freshman hitters scored 98 runs in seven games.

Awards were given at the sports' banquet to the following players: outstanding outfielder and outstanding batter, Don Lovell; outstanding infielder Rudie Reiniger; Golden Glove award, Rob Taylor; outstanding pitcher, Kevin Fields and most inspirational, Ron Dahlman.

Faculty member Dave Crockett coached the winning freshman sluggers.

Varsity Boys' Track

Coach Bill Franzke's varsity spikers had good reasons to be proud. Ending their season with a 9-0 dual meet record, the Solon thinclads could also boast of second place victories in both the North Sheldon Invitational Meet (113 points) and the city meet (107 points). In addition, they captured first in the city relays

with a score of 82 points.

Top score for the year with 187 points (a record) was John Davenport. Davenport also won the Spartan Award and was named outstanding in field. Mike Booton earned the outstanding track award. Booton and John Wohler acted as team captains.

Roger Clark assisted with coaching.

J.V. Boys' Track

Coached by Bill Franzke and led by captain Jeff Muchow, the J.V. spikers completed a strong season 7-1. The J.V. Track team won the city meet.

Mark Patterson placed 3rd in the Intermediates. Outstanding performances were given by Don Howatt, Eric Johnson, Jay Wallace, Tony Ierulli, Brad Arnston, Dan Foulkes, Dan O'Dell, Jeff Muchow and Avery Lim. Mark Patterson, Kevin Kyle, Dan O'Dell and Vern Turner brought the team a victory in the mile relay.

The team voted Jeff Muchow as outstanding track runner and Eric Johnson as outstanding field performer.

Girls' Varsity Track

The Varsity Girls' Track team ended their '78 season with 7 wins and 2 losses. They tied for 5th place in the City Relays and achieved their best ever in the City Meet by taking 3rd place.

Four girls went to State this year: Linda Lawson throwing the discus, Terri Lutze hurling the javelin, Jacquie Williams running in the 100 and the 200 meter hurdles, and freshman Cathy Craddock running in the 100 meter hurdles.

The team was strong both in sprints and on the field and coach Sharon Watkins expects to have another good year in '79 with only 3 seniors leaving this year.

The girls voted Jacquie Williams Outstanding Track Woman, Terri Lutze Outstanding Field Competitor, and the Spartan Award was received by Linda Lawson. Team captains were Patti Cage and Linda Lawson.

J.V. Girls' Track

The Madison girls' J.V. track team had a very successful season, ending with a record of 6-2.

Although there was no city meet for secondary competition , J.V. members Jennifer Stady, Shaun Felts and Vicki Vondross had the opportunity to compete in the city relays on the varsity team.

The team was strong in sprints

and throwing events.

Since members were underclass persons, this will assure a very strong varsity team next year.

Freshman Track

Although their season was not as good as in past years, (4-4), the Freshman track team had many members.

This promises strong varsity teams in the future.

Girls' Tennis

Rain, wind, sleet or snow may not stop a postman, but more often than not it did stop the girls' tennis team. In spite of many cancelled matches, the girls' had their best record in 3 years.

Wins over Jackson, Marshall and Cleveland highlighted the winning season. The only team losses were to Franklin and Wilson.

Madison had two doubles teams that did well in district play. Karry Finzer and Debbie Lovell advanced to the 2nd round while Kathy Kee and Carolyn Baxter qualified to play in the city quarter-finals. Both teams eventually lost to state qualifying teams.

Kathy Kee played number one singles and was also named the outstanding girls' player. The team was coached by former Madison player, Carol May.

Boys' Tennis

Due to lack of personnel, the boys' tennis team had quite a difficult season.

With only six players to compete, the team ended in 5th place in P.I.L. East Division standings. Junior Robert Hill took the number two spot and defeated all his opponents except one.

In district play, Mike Adamski and Hill advanced to the quarter-finals, but lost a chance to qualify for the state tournament by one point.

Boys'/Girls' Golf

The boys' golf team, made up of 9 players, earned a 9-3 record. The most exciting match was Madison's defeat of Wilson, 201 to 207. Most outstanding player and also team captain was Ken Williams. The boys finished 3rd in P.I.L. competition. Ole Johnson coached the squad.

Under the direction of Coach Fran Gannon, the girls' golf team consisting of only 4 players (2 less than the usual number of players on a P.I.L. team) performed well individually, but were hampered in team play

due to lack of golfers. They finished 1-7-1.

Kelly Uhle was the most outstanding player with a 10-1 record. Kelly and Beth Wahlstrom placed 4th and 5th in the city tournament held May 8.

Handicapped Olympics

The Oregon Handicapped Olympics were held on April 22 at Willamette University. All handicapped people were eligible to participate. Applications had to be sent in along with speed timings in special events. They were then grouped with people of their own ability and challenged

only their equals. There were even clowns to entertain the children. The people participated in events like tug-of-war, wrestling, volleyball, and a parade. The Olympics were sponsored by the Portland Bureau of Parks and Recreation and the Holiday Center for the Physically Handicapped and included a catered Chinese dinner for all participants.

Spring Boys' League

The Spring Boys' League cabinet kicked off their season by sponsoring the Oregon vs. Army boxing match held in the Madison gym on Jan. 20. Senator Paul Brown scored a technical knockout over his opponent.

By popular demand the boys again sold their "famous" Madison mugs

this year sporting the school mascot.

During the warm months, they also sold ice cream to end the year smoothly.

Spring Girls' League

Connie Thompson led the Spring Girls' League through an activity-packed season. Immediately after the new cabinet's election, they helped the previous cabinet with the annual semi-formal, making it a smashing success.

Long planning throughout the month of March led to an exciting Girls' League Week, May 1-5. Spring-a-sing-a-grams were sold all week while various events such as Western, Hat and Shade, Gangster and Sports Days were taking place.

New activity ideas included a dance for all Madison feeder schools held at Glenhaven Elementary School and the sale of candy at home baseball games.

A carwash and the all popular Mother-Daughter Tea helped end the year triumphantly.

Pygmalion

This year Madison's annual dinner theater was George Bernard Shaw's Pygmalion, directed by Michael Hibbard and presented in two acts on May 4, 5, and 6 in the auditorium to a capacity audience. History teacher Kenneth Stewart prepared dinner for the 90 persons who attended each performance. Student waiters served the partrons.

Scott Sheridan portrayed Henry Higgins, a phonetics professor who refuses to tolerate the lower class Cockney accent of Eliza Doolittle, played by Teri Nordby.

Other members of the cast included: Denise Howard, Mrs. Eynesford-Hill; Monica Dyer, Clara; Jeff Fritch, Freddy; Todd Wilson, Colonel Pickering; Jim Jeppesen, Wenceslas Neppomuck; Traci Bates, Mrs. Pearce; Steve Thomas, Alfred Doolittle; Teri Saulsbury, parlor maid; Katrina Leeding, Mrs. Higgins; David Cordes and Doug McCleary, bystanders; Suzy Blenkinsop, hostess and Dan Burch, host.

Hibbard felt the cast worked very well together. The only difficult problem seemed to be mastering the dialects

essential to the play.

Senior John Wohler acted as Maitre d'Hotel. The 14 waiters also provided entertainment for the diners.

Dinner theatre has become an increasingly popular event at Madison enjoyed by both students and faculty.

Activities

Executive Council

Executive Council advised by Tom Triplett and led by Student Body President John Davenport consisted of all student body officers, the Senate secretary and all class and league presidents and vice-presidents.

These people put their thoughts and efforts together working with the new principal Mr. Guthrie in getting a radio and an artist-in-residence to make the cafeteria a more enjoyable place for everyone.

Student Senate

A survey on dances was the Student Senate's first project. The survey was conducted to learn from student input how school dances could be bettered.

Their second activitiy was a Sadie Hawkins dance held April 7. Gold Rush played disco records in a farm-like atomosphere.

Shelly Worthington led Senate for half the year by herself. An election was held and Pam Brown became the new Senate Secretary for the remaining time.

A lack of ideas caused the Senators to have a fairly inactive year.

Banquets

Madison honored those students who put a little more of their efforts into being better citizens in the community. Participation in the athletic program was honored at the Fall, Winter and Spring sports' banquets.

Academic achievements were recognized at the Dad's Club Honor Roll banquet. Coaches and teachers were responsible for selecting students who were eligible for awards.

Assemblies

Madison's assemblies

offered variety.

Freshmen attended an orientation program and many pep assemblies were held to show support for Senator sports teams. Election assemblies for rally, student body and class officers and Boys' and Girls' League leaders were presented. Other assemblies included a special winter holiday program, previews for drama productions, music programs, a Focus sponsored fashion show and the Rose Festival princess selection assemblies.

As in past years, attendance at assemblies was voluntary. However, to combat poor behavior, many assemblies were offered on an invitational basis. Teachers were asked to attend assemblies with their students and to sit with them in assigned seats.

Dances

Only four dances open to the entire student body were held this year due to lack of participation. The Luau, Valentine's semi-formal, winter holiday and Sadie Hawkins dances were all

well-planned

events which had to struggle against most students' lack of interest.

One student commented, "Dances are mainly an ego trip for a few people. If I want to watch a bunch of people show off dancing, I'll go see Saturday Night Fever." Another student countered, "Some people enjoy dances and go to dance and to have a good time, not to watch other people or to show off." Either way, dances generally suffered a poor turn-out.

Art Faire

It finally happened — sunny skies and temperatures in the 80's allowed the 1978 Art Faire to be held

out-of-doors

in the courtyard.

Paintings, jewelry, ceramics and other student creations were displayed and sold. A larger food and refreshment section than in previous years was added as well.

Great weather and a chance to escape from the "daily drag" kept the courtyard crowded all day long.

Dollies

The Madison Dollies dance team kept pretty busy this year practicing and performing. They practiced one hour every morning in the gym and displayed their talents at local elementary schools, P.S.U. and the Rose Parade. School performances included football half-times, boys' and girls' basketball half-times and an assembly.

On Feb. 18, the Dollies entered the city dance/drill competition at Wilson High School and won a first place trophy

in the small team division. The Dollies participated at David Douglas High School in state competition on April 8 and also attended a holiday party at Mt. Hood C.C. for mentally retarded children. The girls performed for the children and also taught them some dances. It was a very successful event.

The Dollies were composed of 20 girls who auditioned for the team. Denise Roser was the new choreographer, Suzi Blenkinsop, captain and Dawn Garrett, co-captain. Mrs. Cathy Nelson advised the team.

Senior Band

The Fall Concert got things underway for Madison's Senior Band. This year proved to be very busy as they performed at many of Portland's grade schools. Concerts were given during the Winter Holidays and in the Spring providing fun for all involved.

For the Spring trip this year, the band performed at Spokane

and enjoyed the beautiful Washington scenery. Band members raised money for the trip by selling fruit cakes, dine out coupons for teenagers, and through various paper drives.

Officers for the band were Kristi Shepherd, President; Sue Pella, Vice President; Nancy Kindschuh, Secretary; Sue Dobrinski, Treasurer; Dennis Hoover, Sgt.-at-Arms; Monica Mahr, Historian; Scott Sheridan, Asst. Drum Major and Kyle Bosch, Drum Major. Bill Covert was the band's director.

Stage Band

This year's sixteen member Stage Band played, practiced and performed their way through a happy and musically rewarding year. Compiled partly of senior band members and partly of other student musicians, the band was busy this year playing at the autumn, winter and spring concerts, touring to Spokane, and taking part in a contest with other stage bands of the area.

Citing good group feeling and high spirits

as two secrets to the band's success, director Bill Covert wouldn't name any outstanding players because he felt that "the whole band is outstanding."

With Dennis Hoover in the position of student conductor, the band enjoyed representation from every class including one freshman, Charles Lewis. "The only thing," said Covert, "is that it's a lot of work for everyone."

Orchestra

The orchestra, directed by William Covert, consisted of only five students this year. They performed in the Fall and Winter concerts and also played for Pajama Game

the winter performing arts production.

This year they had a chance to play at Mt. Hood Community College. The orchestra combined with string groups from other schools to give them opportunities to play with a larger group.

Choraliers

Personally selected by Choral Director Fred Hammack, Choraliers consisted of 13 top students in the music department. There were five boys and eight girls in the group.

They performed for all school concerts and during the winter holidays sang for the Elks, Masonic lodges and service organizations throughout Portland. They performed classical, chamber and folk music.

Concert Choir

Sixty-nine members made up one of Madison's best choirs in recent years. In the fall, Concert Choir joined the rest of the Music Department for the Fall Concert and for the sale of coupon books to raise funds for trips. Both events were big successes.

Participation in the Winter Concert, singing at Lloyd Center and a holiday jewelry sale also kept the choir busy. A tour of central and eastern Washington was planned for early in the spring.

Students joining the Music Department in their Freshman year advanced by a natural progression from Freshman Choir through Chansonettes and Cadet Choir to become members of Concert Choir their Junior and Senior years. Other prospective members auditioned with Mr. Hammack to join. Mr. Hammack optimistically noted an increase in music involvement and appreciation at Madison in the last few years and commented that Concert Choir was his favorite group.

Swing Choir

Swing Choir was one of Madison's most popular singing groups. They performed for assemblies, school clubs and at retirement homes as well as at all school concerts. The group selected their own music and outfits.

Members of Swing Choir were chosen by audition. They had to be lively, funloving

and able to learn quickly. Fred Hammack who taught many singing groups at Madison, directed Swing Choir.

Chansonettes

The Madison Chansonettes, an all girl singing group, consisted of selected sophomores and juniors. Some of their activities this year included singing for concerts, holiday caroling

and participation in the Solo Ensemble Contest held in March.

The class was taught by Miss Alice Braden, one of the newer members of the faculty. Chansonettes performed a variety of musical selections ranging from early music to pop.

Guitar

The guitar class at Madison expanded to two classes this year in order to accomodate increased student interest. This course was designed to help students learn basic guitar methods. A variety of music was learned, but folk and modern were the most popular. Those who took the class also studied different styles of music such as calypso, popular and classical.

Ms. Alice Braden has taught the class for three years.

Freshman Chorus

"This is the best Freshman Chorus I have taught in the nine years I have been here," commented director Fred Hammack. For the first time in many years, the Frosh Chorus performed at the Fall Concert. Not only did they perform at the Fall Concert, but they also sang at the Winter and Spring Concerts as well and toured the local grade schools encouraging eighth graders to enroll in the group.

Freshman Chorus was the only choir at Madison where there was no audition.

The class could be taken by forecasting as an eighth grader. Learning the basics of singing was stressed.

Stagecraft

The stagecraft class was in charge of the safety and order of the stage during the year. Part of their job was to set up the stage for all assemblies and learn the geography and terminology of the stage.

To become a member of stagecraft, students were required to pass electrical and carpentry examinations as well as learn about handling and rigging heavy equipment.

Another responsibility was setting the stage for daily events and members were expected to be on the crew for each show.

Thespians

The aim of the International Society of Thespians was to promote dramatic arts

in high schools.

Membership was earned by performing in drama productions or working in the theater for a specified number of hours. Initiations into the club were held twice this year. Thespian members were also in charge of concessions during play intermissions. They hosted the state drama convention held on March 31 and April 1 which was attended by 500 students and teachers.

National Honor Society

National Honor Society, an honorary club for students of Madison, accepted

forty-three new members into their midst this year. In order to become a member of this group, students had to have a grade point average of 3.5 or better.

An induction was held for these new participants on November 29 during which Geroge Guthrie, the acting principal spoke and handed out certificates. The N.H.S. gavel, first presented to the school in 1965, was again presented with President Tanya Nielson's name on it. Miss Judith Leppert advised the group.

Quill & Scroll

Present in many high schools such as Madison, was Quill & Scroll, an international organization.

A club for exceptional students who had performed beyond their regular requirements in journalism, Quill & Scroll included members of the CONSTITUTION, FEDERALIST, and photo staffs.

Approximately 20 new members were inducted into the club this year.

Mrs. Jean Disney advised the group.

Federalist

The Federalist staff, headed by Jack Lyon, editor and advised by Ms. Christine Toth, made a big effort to publish an exceptional

yearbook for 1978.

Students worked hard selling ads to earn money for color in the book. Other staff duties included: drawing preliminary layouts, ordering photos, cropping photos, writing copy and caption material and making final layouts to be sent to the publishers.

There were 21 members on staff.

Constitution

The Constitution staff was headed by editor-in-chief Dave Wahlstrom. Other editors included Yvette Huginnie, editorial page; Ramona Reule, news; Jeff Bond, sports; Roxann Peterson, copy desk and Karen Kalzer and Lisa Piro, co-circulation. Suzy Salmon acted as Business Manager and Peggy Hewitt managed advertising. Jay Wallace was a staff reporter. Mrs. Jean Disney served as advisor for the year.

The staff, made up of 9 juniors and one senior, worked hard during 7th period and after school to get accurate, interesting copy

for every issue.

The newspaper was published bi-weekly. Staffers worked hard to sell ads to produce bigger papers. Frequent dead lines gave them little chance to rest.

Photo Staff

Seeing a student snapping pictures around the school was not an unusual sight. Photo Staff took pictures of everything from activities to zebras.

John Ryder took the place of John "J.P." Washburn as advisor for the first three months of school.

Use of the stabilization method to make finished prints

aided Photo Staff in producing the many photographs needed for the yearbook, newspaper and various other school activities.

Art Staff

The 1977-78 Art Staff kept busy making banners to advertise activities and brighten the halls. This year's banners were colorful and featured graphics. Many teachers and students commented on how unusual and eyecatching

they were.

A new project completed by the staff was painting the stage doors.

Advisor for the Art Staff was Ms. Kathy Renwick.

Speech

Competing against local and out-of-town high schools and colleges, Madison's speech students advised by Layne Stevens won impressive victories. The Senators were always fully represented with 36 first and second year students attending each meet.

In the Voice of Democracy Contest, Solon winners included Jim Lake, 1st; John Fiskum 2nd and Mark Burge, 3rd. In the North District divison of the Optimist International Oratorical Contest, Sue Peterson and Kim Staton finished 2nd and 3rd in the girls' division while Mike Annis placed first in boys' competition.

The Northeast District meet saw Dena Nickerson, Nona Krause and Vienna Nelson take home 1st through 3rd place wins for the girls and Mike Wagner, Chris Pickens and Doug Roake

earn top honors

for the boys. Students competing in privately sponsored meets could earn as much as $5000 in scholarships.

Fifteen second year speakers comprised the Forensics team whose officers included Lynette Wong, president; Brian Chugg, vice president and Brad Peterson, secretary. Team members were awarded letters.

Work Experience

Madison offered a variety of opportunities for students who were either interested in gaining job experience in a particular occupation or who needed to work. With the philosophy that school is only one segment of a student's life and with the purpose of providing a way for the school to utilize community based learning,

Madison's work experience program headed by George Keltner, offered one or two credits to approximately 45 students.

Vocational Work Experience (VWE) provided an alternative for students who had needs which were not occupationally oriented. One credit was given for work in any field. In addition VWE acted as a job information center for all Madison students. Also coming under the supervision of work experience were the metals, social services and office occupations clusters which offered classes with work experience options.

Diversified Occupations (DO) taught by Mrs. Marlene Yann included one credit of classroom experience with a work experience option. Twenty-eight students took part in the program. William diStasio's Distributive Education (DE) class provided 25 students with work and classroom experience in marketing.

Members of the Madison faculty had a training agreement with employers and made written evaluations of student job performance and on-site visitations. Classroom activities included speakers, films, and self-appraisal and job search techniques.

Student Store

Because of lack of interest, there was no D.E.C.A. club this year. The Senator Shack was managed by students from the marketing classes under the supervision of Mr. Distasio. The store sold school and art supplies, T-shirts and a few paperbacks. A new district policy on "junk" food forced the store to discontinue the sale of candy.

A new addition to the store was the sale of a variety of plants. This was managed by students from Green Thumb.

Kiwanis Spades

Selling Christmas cards and organizing an "Awareness Day" were two of the activities held by the Kiwanis Spade Club. "Awareness Day" was a new event held with the purpose of letting non-handicapped students become more aware of difficulties encountered by physically handicapped students.

Acting as advisor and coordinator was Gary Phillips, new to the Madison staff this year. Leadership was also provided by Linda Akagi, president; Richard Blalock, vice-president; Connie McDonald, secretary; and Linda Schwartz, treasurer.

Modettes/Library Aides

Checking coats and serving at dances and banquets were a few of the things the Madettes did during the year. Led by Mrs. Marlene Yann, the officers included president, Sonya Hayden; vice president, Mary Powers; secretary, Sharon Hayden and treasurer, Theresa Hayden. One of the highlights of the year was the holiday party

on December 5 held at Poor Richards Restaurant. All members received a gift from the club during the party.

Mrs. Marian Smith was the advisor for the student library aides. They checked books in and out of the library, shelved books and magazines and wrote overdue notes to students.

Audio-Visual/Bookroom

Audio-Visual student aides performed many services for Madison during the year. After having to pass a test for their license, the students operated equipment for the teachers and videotaped events for various groups. They also delivered films

to teachers and made sure the films were returned on time. Mrs. Helen McComber was their advisor.

Mrs. Peggy Kernan supervised the student bookroom aides. Their duties included such things as processing books, checking in and shelving returned books, issuing books to classes, repairing books and other tasks.

Outdoor School

Outdoor School was exactly what the name said: a school out-of-doors where 6th grade students were able to learn more about nature and be exposed to new friends. Some children had never been to the woods before.

Outdoor School was also a learning experience for Junior Counselors (high school students). They also had a chance to spend a week outside and learn more about nature. But most important, Junior Counselors had the chance to work with, as well as teach, 6th graders.

Junior Counseling seemed to be a valuable and popular experience. This was demonstrated by the fact that there were fewer openings for counselors and participants than the number of applicants. Oregon has found this to be a worthwhile program and plans to continue it.

Don Barr headed the program.

Green Thumb

Green Thumb was a special course for students with an interest in horticulture and related areas. Students learned to care for plants,

make floral arrangements, landscape and control insects. A two-year program, students were assigned to a nursery or floral establishment during their last semester.

Lower Left: Linda Lee cares for plants in the Green Thumb nursery. Upper Left: Jeff Hansen and his instructor repot some of the plants. Upper Right: Labeling new plants is just one of the many jobs Wendy Grangroth does in Green Thumb. Center Right: Nancy Willard seems to enjoy watering plants. Anne Frank

Set in Nazi-occupied Amsterdam during World War II, "Diary of Anne Frank" is the amazing story of 10 Jews who manage to hide out and avoid Nazi detection in the upper floors of a factory for three years. Young Anne Frank, played by Patty Bauer, kept a diary during the years of hiding, and through her eyes were revealed the fears and tensions of her companions during this time. This unique documentary of World War II was written by Francis Goodrich and Albert Hackett and was performed at Madison December 2 and 3. Mr. Mike Hibbard directed the production.

Elections

The elections for the 1978-79 school year took place during the fourth week of April. The general feeling surrounding the election scene was one of apathy.

Despite good publicity and several brilliant speeches, a meager 30% of the student body registered and only 21% actually voted. There was a new policy of registration this year, too. To be eligible to vote, students had to register in advance, and voting machines were used on Election Day.

Seniors

Inspired by the thought of graduation, the Senior Class set out to make their last year the best.

Among the many items sold to make money were cotton candy, baked foods, kites and licorice.

Senior Week was held May 22-26. Events of the week included baccalaureate, a barbeque, dress-up day, the Senior Breakfast and the Senior Assembly.

Motivating the seniors were class officers Rick Blake, president; Sandi Sanders, vice president; Molly Mascall, secretary; JoAnn Blumhagen, treasurer; Lori Anderson, historian; and Lori Moe, publicity chairman. Giving support and guidance to the group were advisors Mrs. Ellen Gruetter and Ms. Kathy Renwick.

Senior Week

Highlights of the Senior Week included the Senior Barbecue and the Senior Assembly.

The barbecue was held May 23rd at 7:30 p.m. in the Madison Cafeteria Courtyard. Seniors got together for an evening of munching out on food and enjoying each other's company.

Spontaneous

games of frisbee and musical chairs were among the activities engaged in after eating.

The senior assembly was excellent with Sandy Sanders as Mistress of Ceremonies. The purpose was to show the talents of the seniors in a show for and by the Senior Class. Held on May 25th at 10:12 a.m., the assembly consisted of musical numbers, comedy sketches and acknowledgment of outstanding scholars of the 1978 Senior Class.

Commencement

Madison's commencement ceremony was held May 30 in the Civic Auditorium. It was a time of both joy and sadness.

Shelly Worthington led the flag salute and Linda Lawson followed with the invocation. A warm welcome was given by Brad Peterson to the graduates, families and friends.

The class theme "Today is the answer to yesterday's dreams," was introduced by Cathy Seal. Lynette Wong, Mark Burge and Sandy Owen shared what this theme meant to each of them.

The farewell was given by Angela Krause. Music was provided by Madison's Concert Choir directed by Fred Hammack. The students proudly accepted their diplomas from Principal George Guthrie.

Senior Breakfast

Eggs, bacon, sausage and juices were just some of the foods served at the Senior Breakfast held at the Airport Sheraton on May 25. The breakfast.

buffet served 290 seniors,

faculty and guests.

Activities Director Tom Triplett said that this year's breakfast was the biggest ever. He then commented, "Everyone enjoyed it; it was an excellent breakfast."

On the agenda, Maryjane Neideigh pronounced the good morning and welcome speech. Diane Farley also spoke and Swing Choir performed.

Senior counselors Margaret Gottlieb and Chuck Tontz presented the Hall of Fame awards and Principal George Guthrie ended the breakfast with a final farewell to seniors.

Baccalaureate

Madison's Baccalaureate, a religious service sponsored by the P.T.S.A. and Dad's Club for seniors, their families and special friends, was held in the auditorium May 22 at 7:30 p.m.

To open the service, Nancy Kindschuh gave an invocation followed by Donna Lazier's welcome. Carla Suiter and David Wahlstrom acted as student speakers and the Concert Choir, directed by Fred Hammack, sang "A Parting Blessing."

Hyrum Smith, Mission President from the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints gave a special address.

A reception was held in the foyer following the service.

Senior Prom

With the theme of "With a Little Luck," the Class of 1978 had their traditional Senior Prom May 26, from 8:00-11:00 at the Masonic Temple. Brothers and Friends provided the music for the elegant event.

Mr. and Mrs. Matney, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Saban, Mr. and Mrs. Wong and Mr. and Mrs. Fontana gladly gave their time to be chaperones. Sandi Sanders and Rick Blake were co-chairmen of the prom committee. Lori Moe, Diane Farley and John Davenport also served on the committee.

Rose Festival

On April 10 and 11, "Hooray for Hollywood", the 1978 Rose Festival theme, was dramatically portrayed in two assemblies which featured settings from Star Wars and Cleopatra. The peak of excitement was reached on April 11, when last year's princess, Stacey Hay, was carried to the stage by four students dressed as Roman soldiers. She announced the 1978 Madison princess — Angela Krause.

From 18 girls who tried out for Rose Festival, five were selected to Angela's court: Rebecca Beavert, Pamela Brown, Maryjane Neideigh, Teresa Nordby and Lynette Wong.

Because of the small number of girls who tried out for Rose Festival, only one elimination was necessary. To prepare for the elimination, the girls had to write and memorize their own 2 to 3 minute speech about something that interested them, make up their own original curtsy, and have a personal intereview which included questions about their hobbies, school and speech topics. The personal interviews also lasted 2 to 3 minutes. A panel of five judges selected the finalists. Judging was based on appearance, 35 points; poise, 35 points; and speaking ability, 30 points.

When interviewed, Becky mentioned that, for her, going out for Rose Festival had been a challenge. She felt that she discovered she was capable of doing something she hadn't realized she could do. Maryjane said she tried out because of a dream. "It is something you look forward to

from the time you enter high school and you wonder if you'll ever be a part of it." Many of the girls had advice which they wanted to give to girls who are thinking of trying out for Rose Festival. From Princess Angela came the advice, "Learn how to curtsy!" Teri felt that it was important to practice on one's own and be one's self.

Angela enjoyed being the princess but said, "I want to do the activities, but through it all, I want to be me. I expect my privacy to be respected. I don't want to be owned, because I am me and no one is ever going to change that."

Angela's activities included the rose planting at Madison, visiting the homes of the other princesses, touring Spokane, going to the state capital, meeting Governor Bob Straub, and participating in many different parades including the grand floral parade.

Juniors

The Junior Class ended the year with much success which came in the form of profitable and inspiring money raising projects. Involvement by the students was moderate but increased greatly by the end of the year.

"The Junior Class has worked hard this year on a series of money making projects," said Mrs. Cheryl Frame, class advisor. The projects included selling cotton candy, having newspaper drives, planning dances and showing movies at grade schools. Mrs. Frame complimented the juniors. "They are a lively, energetic group who are planning well in advance for a successful senior year."

The elected president was Joe Conchi. Other officers were Theresa Powers. vice president; Ramona Reule, secretary; Kelly Uhle, treasurer; Lori Grant, historian and Vicky Smisek, publicity chairman.

Sophomore Class

The Sophomore Class kept busy by selling various consumables such as popcorn, pickles, licorice and baked goods. During December they also sold stocking grams. All these activities raised their treasury by many dollars. In order to reach their goal of $200 by the end of the year, the sophomores planned to have a

carwash and hot dog feed

for all their classmates in the Spring.

Other activities planned were the changing of their class colors and attempts to get more people involved in class activities.

President Tonette Pillitteri commented that she thought the Class of 1980 had great potential and she hoped they realized it soon.

Freshmen

The Freshman class officers of the 1977-78 school year tried to get their class

involved in making money for future class activities. Among their many fund raising activities were candy cane sales, bake sales, and car washes.

The bake sales were run a little differently this year with each E.S.S. teacher's class responsible for a different bake sale. This was done to encourage more class participation and to lessen the burden on the council.

The officers of the Freshman class worked on improving class spirit. They planned an end-of-the-year barbeque for their class, not as a fund-raising activity but as a way of uniting the Freshman class.

The officers of the Freshman class were: Martin Letournou, president; Joe Parvankin, vice president; Julie Buliavac, secretary; Marilee Hall, treasurer; Sheila Rosenbloom, historian; and Terri Saulsbury as publicity chairman. The Freshman class advisor was Miss Linda Schnitzer.

Administration

A new face was seen in the principal's office this year. His name was George Guthrie, former Curriculum Vice Principal. William A. Knouff, Madison's principal of 10 years was promoted to the position of Administrative Coordinator for the Washington, Monroe, and Benson High Schools merger. After careful consideration, the district

selected Guthrie

to replace Knouff as acting principal.

Mike Stipic remained in his job as Administrative Vice Principal whereas Mrs. Grace Clark was moved to Curriculum Vice Principal. Leodis McDaniel was named to the position of acting Vice Principal leaving his former position of Pupil Personnel Coordinator to be filled by Sophomore counselor, Robert Osborn.

The administration's goals for the 1977-78 school year focused mainly upon working towards a better climate between students, parents and staff. One of the methods chosen was to better inform Madison's students, parents and staff about the school and to promote a better understanding of the needs of the school, staff, parents and students.

Counselors

The counselors were an important part of the student's life. At the beginning of the year each student was assigned a counselor who followed his or her progress through four years to graduation. They helped arrange class schedules, aided students in transferring from one subject to another, lended a hand in helping make career choices and helped ease student-teacher relationships. They also helped with personal problems and hall supervision.

There was a large

change in counseling staff

this year. The staff consisted of Mrs. Margaret Gottlieb and Chuck Tontz, senior counselors; Miss Anne Jamison and Walter Wolfe, junior counselors; Ray Niehaus and Robert Osborn, sophomore counselors and Mrs. Barbara Carlin and James Taylor, freshman counselors. Robert Osborn moved to an administrative position as Pupil Personnel Coordinator after Principal William Knouff left the staff. ESS teacher, Lyle Love replaced him. Mrs. Barbara Carlin retired at the end of the first semester and was replaced by Mrs. Joanne Bahls, ESS teacher. The school social worker, Miss Mary Padovan, helped students adjust to school and family problems. Mrs. Jesse Varner, Community Agent, also assisted with student guidance.

Secretaries

The secretaries play an important role in any high school. Madison's secretarial staff were invaulable helpers for both students and staff members. "In relation to students," said head secretary Jessie Smith, "we give service to students, listen to complaints and try to help."

The secretaries also completed

tedious paper work,

assisted teachers and kept important records.

P.T.S.A.

Sponsoring school related activities was the main purpose of the P.T.S.A. organization. Presidents Jay and Kathryn Vahl headed the group with hopes of getting more people involved in Madison High School events.

Two important projects for the year included the annual

held Oct. 20 and the Pancake Breakfast which took place on Feb. 5. Meetings were held on the first Wednesday of every month and were open to parents, teachers, and students who wished to participate.

Above: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pinz visit with Mrs. Mildred Peterson of the E.S.S. Department during annual Open House. Upper Right: Carolyn Baxter sells yearbook booster ads while Lynette Wong answers parent's questions at the P.T.S.A. Open House. Right: Mrs. Owens takes time out to recruit parents for P.T.S.A. Photos by Peterson.

Dad's Club

This year's Dads' Club was headed by John Smith. The annual spaghetti dinner was held Oct. 20. In addition the club assisted the P.T.S.A. with their Pancake Breakfast. The Christmas tree pick-up, which disposed of over 1,000 trees, was held January 2, 7 and 8. According to Mr. Smith, the project was very worthwhile. The last activity sponsored by the Dads was the Honor Roll Banquet.

The Dads Club is a non-profit organization. All profits made went to assist various school organizations.

Library

More books and related materials were purchased at the beginning of the school year as part of the Title IV budget. This budget was based on total school enrollment. Since Madison had one of the largest student bodies in the Portland area, it allowed the librarians to purchase many books.

"We were very, very busy

this year," commented Head Librarian, Mrs. Marian Smith. Mrs. Shirley Henderson and Mrs. Iris Hamm assisted Mrs. Smith in the library.

Support Personnel

Added to the list of support personnel were Ms. Katy Libke in the E.S.S. Reading Lab, Don Cole assisting the handicapped and James Harp, Campus Supervisor, who helped Mrs. Joanne Travis in supervising the campus and halls. The much needed typing, filing and memeographing jobs done in the Resource Centers were performed by Mrs. Nancy White and Mrs. Karen Brown.

Mrs. Mary Beth Brown assisted in the Career Center and Mrs. Mary Stack worked with students in the English Skills Labs.

Cafeteria

Directed by Mrs. Lou Hall, head dietician, the cafeteria staffers who baked the rolls and other morning delights began at 6 a.m.

Then lunch preparation and clean-up for Madison's over 1,900 staff members and students often kept them on the job until 3 p.m. or later.

Then asked what she thought should be done about the littering in the cafeteria, Mrs. Hall replied that students should care about their school and should be proud to go to one of the most beautiful schools in Portland. Mrs. Hall enjoyed her job and liked being around young people.

One new member was added to the staff, Mrs. Hazel Cage.

Custodians

The custodial staff was constantly kept busy with building maintenance. Some of their duties included cleaning up the cafeteria after both lunches, keeping the halls clean, regulating the heat, changing the lights and keeping the grounds free of litter.

In addition to their daily work, they stayed late to clean up after dances, plays, concerts and games. The custodial staff was indeed a very vital part of Madison this year.

Business Education

Business Education at Madison gave students a wide variety of classes from which to choose. The personal finance requirement could be fulfilled by taking General Business. Many students continued taking business related courses in the two clusters offered by this department. Students could choose either the Steno-Secretarial or Clerical cluster. Some courses available were typing, shorthand, accounting and office practice.

New to the Business Department were Mrs. Virginia Porter and Gerald Schloss. Mrs. Mary Anderson acted as department chairman.

Career Education

The Madison Career Center offered various opportunities for students to earn their Career Education credit. Freshman and sophomore students completed career units in their English and E.S.S. classes. Juniors and seniors who had not earned their credit were given programs to complete independently.

For students interested in continuing their education, speakers from many colleges frequently visited the Career Center.

Mrs. Cathy Williams headed the center and was assisted by Mrs. Judy Annus and Mrs. Beth Brown.

English

In addition to regular English, Honors English and skills laboratories, Madison students were able to take Effective Reading, Women in Literature, Exploratory Reading, Mass Media and Business Communications which were semester courses.

Seniors were also able to take courses in drama, speech, journalism

or yearbook to satisfy their English requirement. A very beneficial course was the Communications Laboratory in which juniors and seniors helped freshmen in the R.P.M.S. lab improve their reading skills. William See was the English Department chairman.

Combined English/Social Studies

Three new teachers joined the E.S.S. Department this year: Mrs. Germaine Elliott, Ms. Katherine Fappas and Mrs. Sylvia Williams. Roger Clark and Miss Betty Harry filled positions at mid-year when Mr. Love and Mrs. Bahls moved into counseling.

Along with one period of English and one period of social studies, Freshmen were required to take R.P.M.S. (Reading Power for Madison Students) which improved reading skills.

Ms. Linda Schnitzer acted as department chairman.

Foreign Language

Students who took a first year foreign language class were able to use new books which were made available to them this year. These books gave the classes

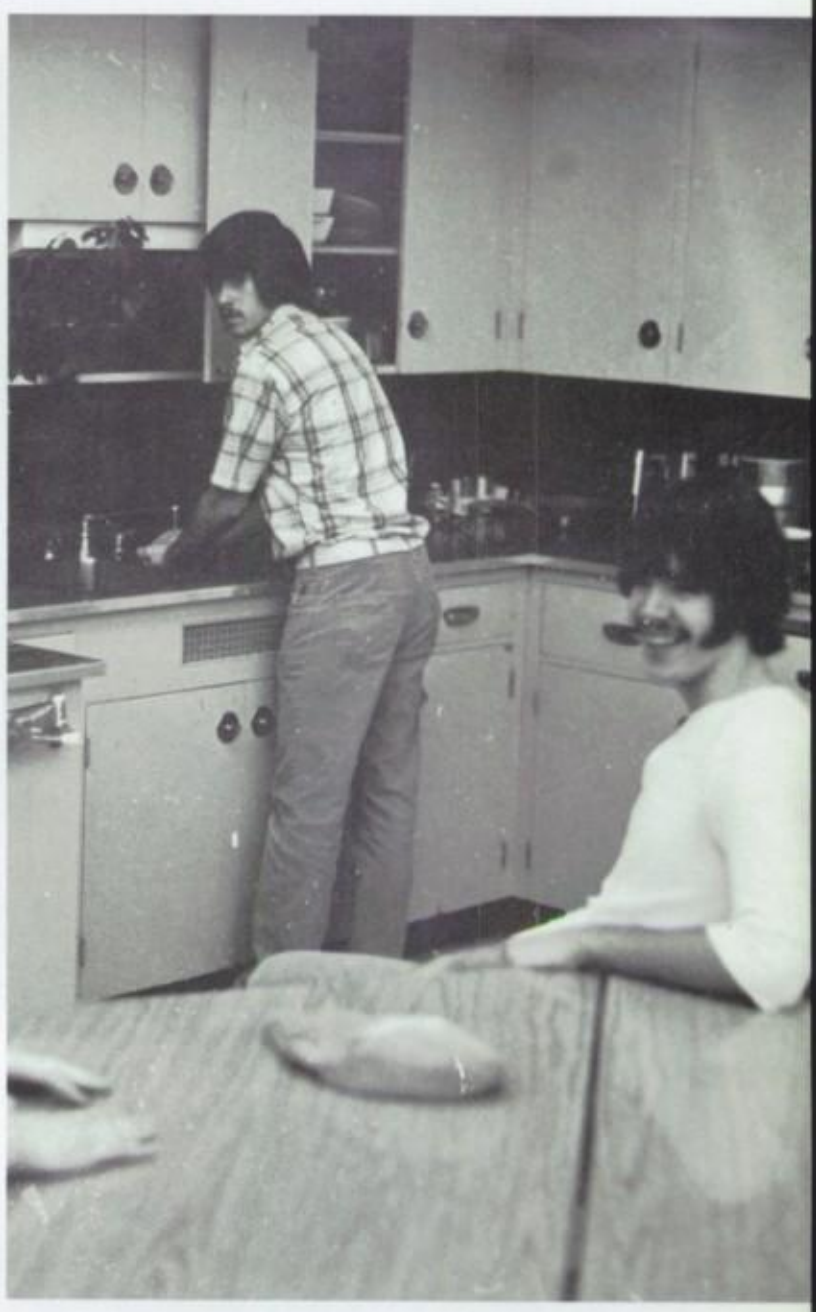
a new way of learning foreign languages, The department also gained a new teacher, Miss Monica Muller who student-taught German at Madison last year. Miss Dorothy Kull continued to teach Spanish and Mrs. Ellen Gruetter taught French.

The teachers sent notices to grade schools to acquaint eighth graders with the foreign language possibilities in high school and college.



Home Economics

Madison offered a full general program in all levels of home economics and semester offerings in child care,

foods, clothing

and housing were available for the older student who wished to pursue the field in greater depth.

The department lent support to all areas of the school curriculum and was especially active in the interdisciplinary instruction of personal finance with department chairmen from social studies and mathematics.

In charge of the department was Miss Elma Shuck.

Mathematics

To help students meet the consumer education competencies, the Math Department offered a one year Consumer Math class. In addition, math teamed with social studies and home economics staff members teaching Buyer Beware and Dollars and Sense — two half-year courses which also met consumer competencies. This year Math Lab was extended to freshmen.

Due to a 10% increase of students taking math classes and a need to fill vacant staff positions, three new teachers

joined the Math Department — Mrs. JoAnne Powell, Robert Rea and Barton Parker. Mrs. Powell taught introductory algebra; Mr. Rea, general math and Algebra; and Mr. Parker, refresher math and general math and algebra.

As in past years, Madison took part in the Mathematics Association of America Contest held in March. The top student in each grade level received a plaque and certificate and was eligible to compete with other top math students for recognition. Mrs. Mary Ann Grams chaired the department.

Science

In May, sophomore, junior and senior chemistry, biology and physics students toured the Oregon State University Marine Sceince Center in Newport. They also stopped at Boiler Bay to study marine life in tide pools

on the Oregon Coast.

The Science Department offered a variety of courses designed to teach students the scientific method and to satisfy their curiosity about scientific laws. Full year classes in chemistry, biology, physics and physical science were available. A half-year physiology course was also offered. Experiments, lectures and field trips broadened the experiences of interested students. Herb Osaki acted as department chairman.

History

The U.S. History Travel-Study class spent their Spring vacation from March 13-26 touring the historical sites of the East. Thirty-eight Madison students accompanied by 4 advisers started off their trip with 3 days in Boston where they went on the Freedom Trail. Next they traveled to New York where they saw the Statue of Liberty and the Broadway play "The Whiz." One of the highlights of the trip was shopping on 5th Avenue. They also visited Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., Williamsburg and ended their trip in Yorktown. One of the group's favorite places was a home-style restaurant called Plain & Fancy where they stopped on their way through Pennsylvania. Two-thirds of the students spent part of the trip with colds. However, despite minor hardships, the trip proved to be a great experience for all.

Other history classes offered at Madison included Modern Problems, Modern Environmental Problems, Psychology, Sociology, Leadership, Economics, Biblical History, Historical Perspectives and a social studies cluster in service occupations.

Ben Jarrett served his 18th year as head of the Social Studies Department.

Special Programs

The direction of the Physically Handicapped program at Madison was to provide full services: education, personal and vocational counseling for physically handicapped high school students. Gary Phillips was the director of this program.

John Price became the new chairman of the Special Education program which was a program stressing basic skills training and meaningful experiences

for its students. To accomplish a goal of making students as employable as possible, each student was required to have prevocational and vocational work experiences.

The newest program to Madison was the bi-lingual program for Asian refugees. The program consisted of 60 Laotian and Vietnamese students who were taught by two native teachers, Phan Cong and Kham One Keopraseuth. Classes were taught in both English and the student's native language.

The English as a Second Language program headed by Mrs. Linda O'Heineman provided special instruction in English for non-native speakers.

Focus

Known throughout the community as a successful approach to more individualized learning situations, the Focus project enjoyed another lively year. The program was for students who considered it important to have more intimate learning situations, as well as an education which was tailored to their own present and future lives.

Thanks to the dedicated Focus teachers, about 85 students had the opportunity to get into a program where they could help plan their own learning according to long and short term needs, required skills in math and writing and the many courses offered. Focus students and staff had good rapport

with each other, and shared enough common interests so that the "generation gap" was thrown aside and learning became easier and much more enjoyable.

Students chose from several reading and math courses, as well as psychology, astronomy and personal finance. Self-interest classes included everything from stained glass and clay work to disco and beginning guitar.

Physical Education

The emphasis in the P.E. Department this year was on

"lifetime sports."

In the sophomore, junior and senior classes, teachers tried to stress activities that would carry over into life after high school. Sports such as bowling, tennis, golf, archery, badminton and volleyball were among the varied activities that were encouraged.

This year Title 9 created an impact on U.S. schools. Title 9 entitled girls to equal opportunities to participate in sports and use sports' equipment.

Among the specialty P.E. classes offered this year were the dance team, instructed by Mrs. Cathy Nelson; fitness classes; and remedial and adaptive P.E. classes. James Webb headed the department.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts Department provided students with opportunities to learn about design and construction.

The department offered courses in woodwork, metal work, drafting and architecture.

The beginning classes started out with the basics in the courses they selected. They were given required projects which gave them basic knowledge of their art. Advanced students were able to choose the project that they would like to work on. Teacher approval was required. Among the projects done this year were stereo cabinets, wooden chests, dressers and metal trailers. Chairman of the department was Russell Walker.

Art

The Art Department offered a variety of courses. The most popular was the Art Metals class which turned out many creative and marketable

items such as stained glass windows and jewelry.

Another popular class was ceramics where students molded and sculpted clay into beautiful objects. The best of these were displayed in the hall showcase.

Other classes offered were Art General and Advanced Art, Crafts, Italics and Weaving. Paul Paxton chaired the department.

Field Trips

Madison students participated in many field trips throughout the year. Each trip had to be cleared with the administration. Approval for the trips was granted on the basis of their value as a supplement to the regular education program.

The Science Department sponsored many trips, one of which was the annual biology trip to the beach. Students had a first hand chance to study marine and plant life. The consumer science classes journeyed down the Columbia Gorge and the physics classes went to the Oregon Museum of Science and Industry.

The city wide "Opus II" instrumental and vocal concert was held at Madison. Students from all over the city were bussed to Madison to prepare for the second annual concert.

The junior American History classes embarked on a bi-annual East Coast tour.

They visited New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington D.C., and Williamsburg. Thirty-three students took part in the two week trip. Mr. and Mrs. Gassaway and Mr. and Mrs. Wiitala were the chaperones.

"Our school is the best in the city of Portland. I think we have the most spirit in sports and the best support that anyone could give." — Bev Pearson, freshman.

"I really see little or no unity in this school . . . willing or not you are stamped and classed — soc, jock, mauvo or general student body. To step out of your classification is a sin!" Denise Metz, senior.

"I think Madison is improving . . . but I don't like the way everyone puts labels on certain groups of people. I don't think of myself as any of the labels but as a human being with feelings and I feel that people shouldn't be labeled except as human." — Annette Heidecker, senior, Focus.

"What I would like to see improved is the girls' sports programs." — TerriAnn Lutze, junior.

"I think that Madison is a good school but a lot of people lack school spirit. It is important to get excited and show some enthusiasm." — Marilee Hall, freshman.

"Our Drama department is very good." — Julie Swanson, sophomore.

"I came from a really spirited school. I really tried to get spirited here, but it doesn't work. I feel Madison should have class competition like yelling, cheering, etc." — Dana Hartley, senior.

"Madison is the only school I've ever gone to so I don't have much to compare it with but all in all I think it's a pretty good school. I think the biggest problem is the relations between all the different groups of students." — Sheryl Popham, senior, Focus.

On Our School, cont.

"I think we have too many stuck up socs and jocks that think they're too good for anyone but themselves . . . and they criticize and put down Focus when they don't even know what goes on in it. All they know about it is the stupid little rumors that go around, like it's for goof-offs and dumb people. There are no dumb people in Focus. There are a few goof-offs in Focus who cause the rumors but they just abuse Focus and take advantage of it. I am quite sure that there are just as many goof-offs and greasers as they call them in traditional Madison." — Wendy White, sophomore, Focus.

Favorite Class

"My favorite class is band. We all get some sense of unity by working together. Oh, there are a lot of problems with people who don't participate, but we have fun." — Monica Mahr, junior.

"Almost all those classes that I have are my favorite classes because when I forecast I chose all those classes that I like." — Avery Martin Lim, sophomore.

"Mostly writing classes (are my favorites) because the Focus teachers have all helped me to find what career is best for me. Not ony that but they have helped me to explore the area of writing that I would not have an opportunity to do in traditional Madison classes." — Terri Perrine, junior, Focus.

"Photo Lab. I can be creative, and ! hope photography will be my profession." — Jeff Arntson, sophomore.

Faculty on the Job

"I really like teenagers! I see lots of curiosity, enthusiasm, introspection, insight — the full range of human values. I like helping students to improve their basic skills or learn how to evaluate their own experiences by comparing them to examples in literature." Ms. Patricial Knoll, English.

'After 17 years as secretary in the main office (actually sitting at the same desk) my greatest enjoyment is still working with faculty and students." Mrs. Shoop, secretary.

"Aside from the natural high of being an automatic authority figure, it is a terrific rush of personal satisfaction to assist in creating works for public performance. People often shake their head at me and say, "How do you stand it?' And the answer is simple: I have yet to be let down." Michael Hibbard, drama.

"I am one of the community agents of M.H.S. I work with the students, parents and community. I enjoy everthing about my job. I have learned that working with young people has made me more knowledgeable about what is going on around me. One thing I like about my job is that it is very challenging." — Mrs. JoAnn Travis.

"I enjoy working with young adults. It's nice to feel that I have helped them prepare for the future. I like the openness and enthusiasm of teenagers." — Ms. Marilyn Falbo, Spec. Ed.

Changes at Madison

"The slaughter of the tree outside of C-17 came as a personal blow to me — like the beheading of an old friend. On the lighter side — my students have been fantastic this year. I think student are more cooperative and interested in improving their skills." — Ms. Patricia Knoll, English.

"There seems to be a much more tolerant attitude at Madison concerning those who are different. I am sure that the presence of more black students, the Vietnamese and the physically and emotionally handicapped has helped to make Madison more like the world outside, rather than just another isolated high school community. Also, people seem to be politer, they are dressing better, acting better, and have more regard for peoples' personal rights and needs. Art work, posters, and banners are left on the walls now. Year ago, they were burned on the bulletin boards minutes after they were put up. All in all, it is a more civilized place to live." — Michael Hibbard, Drama.

Future Plans

"I have applied for a special course at M.H.C.C. If accepted I'll go there. If not I'll work. High school has only helped to prepare a person on the outside. Many things have to be learned from experience." — Synthia Vaughn, senior.

"A year from now I most likely will be going to P.S.U. and majoring in languages. I would like to learn three different languages and find a career that would involve the use of a language and some travel." — Ellen Rancher, senior.

"I plan to work about eight years in house building and save up a bunch of money, then go down to southern California and take a solar heating class. Then I'll come back to Oregon and make a company that builds solar heat houses." — Dana Hartley, senior.

"I'll hopefully be playing ball; if not I would like to go on in hair dressing. I think it's kind of a neat job. School hasn't helped me with this decision because of no classes in that field." — Rick Cannedy, senior.

Best Day . . . Worst Day

"The day I graduate will be my high point!" — Denise Metz, senior.

"The first day of classes (was best) because I saw about six friends that I thought would have moved." — Bill Bradley, sophomore.

"(Best day was) when Madison fans finally came and cheered on the Senator Basketball team to a victory over #2 in State, the Grant Generals, on Valentine's Day!" — Ellen Rancher, seniors.

"The best day of this year for me was when Focus had an assembly in the little theatre and I read two poems in it. It made me feel important." — Annette Heidecker, senior, Focus.

"It (the worst day) was a day that I got behind on my work in Photo Lab, and the Yearbook needed my pictures." — Jeff Arntson, sophomore.

"The worst day was the first of school. I didn't know anybody and they were all too stuck-up to talk to me. The high point of this year was the day I left regular Madison and got into Focus." — Laurie Berge, junior, Focus.

"I think the best day I ever had was when I got into Focus. It seemed to me I was getting away from people that didn't really want me around. Most people in traditional Madison made me uncomfortable." — Lynn Chamberlain, sophomore, Focus.

Free Time

"I have to do a lot of related work outside of school, such as reading plays, and travel frequently to San Francisco and New York to keep up on the latest happenings. But to get away from it all, I enjoy reading, listening to classical music and traveling by train. I guess you'd call me am Amtrack groupie. Practically every vacation finds me on a train. Last Christmas I flew to Chicago and took the train from Chicago to San Francisco. I have been in 20 states on the train and it is the only way to see the scenery. Seeing the sunrise in the Montana Rockies will always be one of my special memories." — Michael Hibbard, Drama.

"Well I don't spend my free time doing homework, sorry to say." — Ellen Rancher, senior.

Free Time

"I read all the time — two to three books a week. I run daily — from five to ten miles. I grow 'veggies' organically. Usually I'm very busy and enjoy what I'm doing." — Ms. Patricial Knoll, English.

"I ride motocross, or I should say ride a motorcycle that is a dirt bike, a 1978 Yamaha 175 momo-shock." — Mark McGinnis, sophomore.

Dana Hartley. Photo/Lyon

The Year in a Word

"FAST!! Every year goes faster than the last, and this one ripped!" — Monica Mahr, junior.

"EXCITING. I had a lot of fun and met a lot of new people." — Merilee Hall, freshman.

"My senior year has been very BORING. I feel very disappointed." — Synthia Vaughn, senior.

"UNUSUAL, because I've experienced a lot of different things that I really can't explain." — Annette Heidecker, senior.

"DEPRESSING, because I can't make up my mind on what to do after I leave." Rick Cannady, senior.

"BORING! It was a boring year." — Laurie Berge, junior, Focus.

"I can't explain a whole year of ups and downs in one word." — Sheryl Popham, senior, Focus.

Money isn't everything.

Just ask your Personal Service Representative. She can help you with anything that has to do with money. And quite a few things that don't.

The start of this school year saw the yearbook staff anxiously waiting to start work on this copy of the Federalist. But before we knew it, we had our theme picked and we were making decisions that, I feel, made this the best edition in a long line of outstanding yearbooks. Soon deadlines came, and with them a state of well organized mass confusion. We met the deadlines only to find others that were still to be overcome. Despite all of the chaos, teamwork and help from one another got the job completed and produced this, the 1978 volume of the Madison High School Federalist.

We, the staff of the 1978 Federalist, would like to express our thanks to:

Troy Potter for the photos on the Fall and Classes dividers, Dana Pettit for the photos on the Winter and Academics dividers, and for the cover design, Donna Ozier for the photo on the Spring divider,
Classic Studios for many of the sports and rally team photos,
Kennell Ellis for the senior class photos,
The Photo Graphic for the underclass photos,
J.P. Washburn for advising Photo Staff,
Ms. Toth for advising the Yearbook Staff,
Jack Lyon for the autograph supplement, and Taylor Publishing Co. and Ron Castleman for publishing the book.

Dear Genie
Have fun
in the future or try.
Take care and party Hardy.
because I will for sure. Well Good Luck. your friend
for ever

Just for you

Little sis as the years go, you'll grow
But I'll allways
remember you as my little sis. I'll allways love you no matter
how many years pass

Happy birthday
my little sis

— Diane

I've learned to enjoy love while it's here for now I know it may soon disapear
So for now I'll hold on tight and treasure your love
throughout the night.

Is it love,
or is it pain?
I feel them both could they be one
& the same?

MADISON

To my critics...

When I'm in a sober mood
I worry, work and think
When I'm in a drunken mood
I gamble, fool around & drink
But when my moods are over and my time has come to pass - I hope they bury me upside down so the whole world can kiss my cuss!
Gerrie-Anne
